Right Path Treatment Centers Acquired by BrightView Health

PITTSBURGH, December 9, 2021 - BrightView Health, a comprehensive outpatient addiction treatment provider with 46 locations throughout Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, and Delaware has acquired Right Path Treatment Centers. Right Path has five centers with locations in Virginia Beach, Richmond, Chesapeake, Suffolk, and Newport News. All services will continue uninterrupted, and all employees are planning to transition to the new organization.

The Braff Group originated the transaction and served as the exclusive mergers and acquisitions advisor to Accredited Home Care.

Right Path was founded with the goal of treating addiction locally with evidence-based care. Including broad insurance acceptance, open schedules, comprehensive on-site services, and clinical and medical excellence are all foundational to ensuring patients are seen quickly and treated well. After recognizing the significant need for better patient care in eastern Virginia, Right Path expanded to meet the needs of communities and families in the region. By joining BrightView, Right Path will be able to expand its services and continue to provide the best patient experiences and life-saving care to those struggling with the disease of addiction.

There are many synergies between the models of care used by Right Path and BrightView, so patients should continue to expect high quality care. Both programs are focused on treating the disease of addiction through biological, psychological, and social means. Treatment programs generally include medication assisted treatment (MAT), individual and group counseling, peer recovery support, and wraparound social support services that help patients achieve lasting recovery. All treatment programs are personalized to each patient’s specific needs.

John Delaney, Right Path’s co-founder and CEO, said: "Right Path has always been dedicated to helping individuals suffering from substance use disorder. Partnering with BrightView enables us to serve more patients, leverage economies of scale, and expand our offering. We know their commitment to putting patients first matches our own. We look forward to combining efforts to save more lives and offer additional resources for our communities."

Dylan Jackson, Chief Development Officer, of BrightView, added: "Right Path has had a profound impact on thousands of patients and their communities. We are excited to build on their legacy of quality, accessible care. We understand the importance of evidence-based treatment, and we are committed to ensuring a smooth transition for each patient, staff member, and community partner. The team at BrightView is looking forward to bringing our expertise and leadership in the field to the communities Right Path serves."

Ted Jordan, The Braff Group Managing Director that headed up the deal team representing Right Path commented, "Consolidation activity in the MAT sector continues at a rapid pace and this is a perfect example of a synergistic combination that will benefit the patients being served and all associated stakeholders."
